Donna,

Further to my email I would like to update you on the out of tolerance speed cushion.

Following receipt of the results of the check survey carried out by the Contractor for the works & observation that one of the speed cushions was potentially out of acceptable tolerance a joint meeting on site was arranged with the Developer & his Contractor. At the meeting it has been confirmed & accepted there was an error in the survey. I can therefore confirm that all speed cushions have been constructed to the correct height & no reconstruction / remedial work is required.

During the site meeting it was noted there were some associated signs still to be installed, I was informed at that time the signs were on delivery and expected within 2-3 weeks. We will chase this up early next week.

I hope the above is helpful as an update.

Regards

Chris Morton
